Katie Miller longs to be an independent adult. She's tired of the memories that refuse to let her go. Now, in her sophomore year in college at North Maple College, she's ready to focus on school. When she's offered a job as a tutor for the star goalie on the hockey team, her determined focus waivers. Andrew Moore is on track to become a professional hockey goalie, but being the party loving 22 year old that he is, Andrew finds his dreams at risk when his grades fall, jeopardizing his chances at success. His dad, sick of bailing Andrew out, hires a tutor as a final chance to get his act together. Katie's independence and Andrew's stubbornness creates a toxic learning environment. Or, are their passionate arguments the one thing that helps them both find their way?
