What amazes me, she half whispered, after ten minutes of graceful, hollow conversation, is, if you must know it, not so much the manifestation itself-though that will surely be wonderful-as your assurance that it will take place.

- ... The star, which to the naked eye appeared as a single yellow point of light, now became clearly split into two bright but minute suns, the larger of which was still yellow, while its smaller companion was a beautiful blue.
- . . . Nightspores eyes wandered about the room, finally seeming to linger upon a glass-fronted wall cupboard, which contained a few old bottles on one of the shelves and nothing else.
- ... Nightspore seemed unwilling to answer, but, finding Maskulls eyes still fixed on him, he brought out: Unless light pulled, as well as pushed, how would flowers contrive to twist their heads around after the sun?
- ... While he was still talking, with his hand on the smaller bottle, the other, which was lying on its side, accidentally rolled over in such a manner that the metal caught against the table.
