God Without Religion - Second Edition: The Life of Jesus and The Writings of His Messengers Brian S Gooch

Jesus was born into a religious heritage, in the midst of a religious society. However, he deemphasized religious practices, putting them in their proper place, perspective, and priority. Alternatively, he emphasized and demonstrated a deep spiritual connection to others and a life of obedience and conforming to the will of The Almighty (God). Jesus did not start a religion. The apostle wrote, "They were first called Christians at Antioch" and "If any of you suffer as a Christian, he should not be ashamed but, instead, glory in that name". This is not reference to a religion called Christianity, but religious people called them "Christ-like" (Christian) because they, Jesus' followers, were foolish enough to love the unlovable, to prefer the well being of others above themselves, to bring words of hope in hopeless situations and to love God in the same way Jesus demonstrated love towards God, with all of his heart, soul and life. The qualifications for calling oneself Christ-like or Christian pale in the true light of what it means to be like Jesus, full of the spirit of God, full of compassion and dedicated to doing God's will. Without theological opinions and religious gymnastics, what did Jesus and his followers reportedly say, think, teach, and live? Is it Christ-like to: rejoice over the death of another person (any person), to hate any group of people because of their practices, lifestyle, occupation, or disposition towards others or ourselves? Is it Christ-like to be prejudice, racist, hateful, murderous, vengeful, indifferent, unthankful, self-centered, or religious? Read for yourself!
